

Homeschool Days

at the

Molly Brown House Museum

Where in the World is Margaret Brown?

September 22, 2020

How did Margaret Brown travel? How long did it take her to get there? Travel across the world with us, as we try and figure out where and how Margaret traveled, how those technologies, and the world she lived in, changed over time, and what the societal motivations were for anyone traveling during this time period.

Trick or Treat

October 13, 2020

During the Victorian era, the celebration of Halloween took hold in America and many of today's customs were developed. While costumes and decoration are now different than those in "Molly" Brown's time, the mystery and surprise of Halloween is a sentiment we still celebrate.

Deck the Halls

December 8, 2020

We're decking the halls Victorian-style! Have you ever wondered where some of our most beloved Christmas traditions come from? Come find out as we explore what Christmas was like for a Victorian family like the Browns!

Homeschool Days take place from 9:30-11:30 and 11:00-1:00 on the days listed above. If morning programs fill, we will offer an afternoon session from 2:00-4:00. Space is limited. Advanced registration required for all Homeschool Day programs. Admission is $10 per child, $5 per adult (one adult free). Siblings may attend for free, however, if they wish to participate in the activities and take-home components of the program they need to be registered. To register, email education@mollybrown.org or call 303-832-4092 x 20.

The majority of the spaces in the Museum are only accessible via stairs.*